John Gage is one of the world's foremost non-Japanese leaders in traditional, heritage martial arts. Besides his 7th Dan in Nihon Jujutsu, Gage-sensei is 4th Dan Judo (Kokusai Budoin, IMAF) and 3rd Dan Judo (All Japan Judo Federation).

He is the current head of the Nihon Jujutsu system founded by the late Sato-Shizuya Sensei (1929 – 2011), and is former Program Director at the US Embassy Judo Club in Tokyo, Japan. A lifelong passion for history, and things from faraway places, particularly the arts and culture of Japan, began at an early age for Gage Sensei. He started studying aikido at age seventeen and judo at nineteen.
